Please join us and help create a society that works for the 140,000 autistic school children in the UK.

Raising just £100 could pay for 20 parents to talk to one of our trained helpline advisers, for support and guidance about their autistic children.

Dear Madam or Sir,

World Autism Awareness Week is back from 30 March to 5 April and we'd love your school to join us and raise awareness and funds to help improve the lives of autistic children in the UK.

One in 100 children are autistic and you most likely have autistic children in your school. I am sure you appreciate how tough life can be for them.

You can sign your school up to take part at www.autism.org.uk/saaw

You'll receive a free fundraising pack and we're also creating learning resources about autism which will be ready in February.

So, thank you on behalf of all the people you and your amazing students will be helping.

Yours in admiration,

Chris Packham CBE

Fundraise for World Autism Awareness Week and your school could win a visit from Daisy & Ollie and the chance to learn from the animation team.
